Andrea Marie Breiling, “Stretchin’ It Out,” at Sonce Alexander Gallery. Plastic wrap, old bits of canvas, found objects, liquid latex and other found bits make their way into Breiling’s works, which straddle the gritty divide between painting and sculpture. Opens Saturday at 6 p.m. 2634 S. La Cienega Blvd., Culver City, soncealexandergallery.com.

Sonce Alexander Gallery has a show featuring the assemblages of Andrea Marie Breiling -- pieces such as "Untitled," above, that combine materials such as plastic trash bags, oil and faux marble. (Andrea Marie Breiling / Sonce Alexander Gallery)
